

Adjustable accents: Spot Tables from Samuelson Furniture

The Studio, Samuelson Furniture's in-house design team, has unveiled a new line of tables as part of the brand's newly launched Phorm Collection.

The new Spot Tables are round with curvaceous openings serving as a distinctive design accent. The inner area of each table is customizable and can be built in a variety of ways, making each piece unique to the space in which it is placed. Each table's size also can be customized for each project, and the outer shell is available in a range of the company's finishes.

The standard size for a Spot Table is 20 inches high and 12 inches in diameter.
