

hospitalitydesign

august 2025 hospitalitydesign.com

with a twist

the product marketplace

products seating

Structured styles meet comfort

By Stefanie Schwalb

1

2

3

4

5

1

The Reid rocking chair from Samuelson Furniture provides ergonomic support, plush cushioning, and a gentle rocking motion. Also available as a double rocker, the sculptural cube frame includes a patent-pending Rock Stopper for stability and ease when standing. SAMUELSONFURNITURE.COM

2

Designed by Fabio Di Bartolomei, Sandler Seating's Bright 185.11 chair features a curved backrest in wood and upholstery. There are five frame finishes to choose from, including oiled, American walnut, natural, dark gray, and wenge oaks. SANDLERSEATING.COM

3

The minimalist Matthew sofa from Domkapa provides style, support, and versatility to any space. Designed by Hélder Costa, the piece is distinctive for its silent mechanism that permits users to adjust the armrests and backrest to their angle of preference. DOMKAPA.COM

4

Gloster's Salina signature lounge chair pairs four teak poles with fiber-wrapped frames showcasing a mesh design of net and vine imagery. The internal panels are woven from natural-textured outdoor fiber, while the teak frame features stainless steel accents topped with luxe cushions. GLOSTER.COM

5

Handmade in Italy and crafted in Australia, Paloma Editions makes its debut in the U.S. with Isola, a dining series inspired by water's serene renewal. The sculptural collection features four dining tables, a dining chair, and an artisan stool crafted from brushed oak, natural fibers, and oceanic Cippolino marble. PALOMAEDITIONS.COM