Samuelson Furniture has installed beautiful, custom pieces into the building that's raising the bar for Boston's standard of luxury – Four Seasons Hotel One Dalton Street. The 215-key property is made up of 174 guest rooms and 41 suites, with an additional 160 private residences. As Boston's newest skyscraper standing at 724-feet, One Dalton is the third tallest building in the city; its cutting-edge design and soft-triangular shape bring a modern take to the skyline. Ideally situated in the heart of Boston's Back Bay neighborhood, the hotel is steps away from global business, sports, art, and music.

With the goal of having the interiors be as grand as the exterior, Samuelson Furniture was tapped to outfit the space with high-end, custom seating.

Bill Rooney and Thierry Despont, the project's designers, sought to create a sleek, elegant and warm atmosphere with the use of cream-colored walls, a muted grey palette and hints of metallic.
